First Rate Asset Class

Stocks have more than a 200 year track record of outperforming for the long-term investor

Versatile Objectives

Portfolios can be designed for a variety of strategies, including: capital appreciation, income generation, or inflation hedging

Selecting for Quality

A focused portfolio of individual stocks can outperform market averages targeted by index ETFs

Fine Tuning

A portfolio of 25 stocks has many more potential adjustments than one consisting of a few ETFs

An example portfolio

Core Holdings
Stable and predictable

stocks don't have to grow slowly

Special Situations

Great opportunities remain overlooked by the market

Income Generation

Plenty of assets beyond bonds provide regular income

Client Requests

We'll balance the rest of your portfolio against your favorite stocks

How we find great stocks

Search Everywhere

Large institutions often ignore small companies due to liquidity. Popular financial news tends to focus its reporting on trendy companies. We cast our net high and wide to find the best opportunities.

Focus on Quality

Categorizing stocks as either growth or value is overly simplistic. We look for stocks displaying growth, value, and several other factors such as management temperament, brand value, and strategic positioning.

Run the Numbers

Financial statements are regulated and standardized while promises from management may be misleading. We focus on credibility and use independent forecasts in our research.

Check for Red Flags

Popular valuation metrics can be manipulated with deliberate accounting techniques. Digging deep into the numbers can uncover the true story.

Ignore the Noise

Politics and headline news rarely affects the market over the long-term. It's important not to overreact to irrelevant information.
